

Ming chuan University College of information "Biomedical Optoelectronics Focused Course Program rules"

1. The Institute provides students in medical engineering and optoelectronics fields full of basic knowledge, establish Foundation of students learning, competitiveness and employment to students engaged in research, according to "Ming chuan University College credit program approaches" to establish "biomedical and optical credit program" regulations (hereinafter referred to as the rules).
2. Cheng Youben Program Committee program teachers 5 to 7 people, with members elect 1 as the convener, Program Committee program curriculum planning.
3. The program Organizer for the Electronic Engineering Department of the College of business.
4. Cheng Yingxiu account credits table shall be approved by the school "school curriculum Committee" and the "academic conference" approved and submitted to the principal approval before implementation.
5. Students should apply online students through the school system, this program has been approved to become students.
6. Attending learning process students should complete a course completed at least 21 credits, of which at least 6 credits do not belong to the original study and minor subjects. Prior to the completion of the credits, after it has been verified as correct and report to the principal's approval, granted by the school certificate of credit program.
7. Attending Cheng Xuesheng, has to satisfy the original Department of graduate courses but has yet to complete the program requirements and credits, in addition to attend teacher education program in accordance with the "University teacher training centre approach" rules apply for extension of length of study is outside the attendance still other credit program according to law provisions shall not extend its duration.
8. According to the regulations of the school assessment program results on a regular basis, its evaluation criteria containing student applications and obtain the certificate number and student satisfaction, and depending on the result to amend or terminate the program.

9. Matters not covered in these rules, and related laws and regulations of the University.
10. The rules adopted by the Department, the conferences and academic meetings and submit them to the President after the approval notice, amendments are the same.